Davenport radiologist named to physician health committee

DES MOINES, IA– Raymond G. Harre, M.D., a Davenport radiologist, has been appointed to the Iowa Physician Health Committee, which oversees a program to monitor physicians who self-report problems with mental health issues, physical disabilities or alcohol or drug abuse or dependence.

Harre's appointment to a three-year term on the seven-member committee was made by the Iowa Board of Medicine at a meeting February 11.

There are 85 participants in the confidential program, which is administered by Board staff. More than 350 physicians have participated in the program since 1996 when it was established.

More information about the program is available at <http://iphp.iowa.gov/index.html>
